

TURKISH VAN - 13d

STANDARD OF POINTS - 1 June 2007

The Turkish Van is a naturally occurring semi-longhaired breed from the rugged region of the Middle East centred on Lake Van where the climate varies to extremes.

The breed is known for its unique distinctive pattern, a white cat with strikingly coloured head and tail. It is a large muscular cat; the strength and power is evident in substantial body and legs.

The breed does not gain full maturity until three years or more, therefore allowances must be made for age and gender. Individual cats should convey an impression of a well balanced, well proportioned and strong appearance in which no one feature is exaggerated.

All varieties of Turkish Van should conform to this general type standard.

Head - Substantial broad wedge, nose medium to long, straight but with a barely perceptible dip in profile.

Ears - Moderately large, well feathered, fairly close together and set high on head.

Eyes - Large and oval, alert and expressive. To be of the requisite colour with pink rims

Body - Long and sturdy, broad, muscular and deep-chested, especially the males.

Legs and Feet - Legs well-boned and medium in length. Feet neat well rounded and tufted.

Tail - Full brush, length to balance with the body.

Coat and Condition - Fur should be long, soft and silky to the roots. No woolly undercoat. It should be noted that the winter coat of the Van is longer and heavier than the summer coat. Longer coated cats are to be preferred. The neck and chest ruff should become more pronounced with age. The cat should be well groomed and immaculately prepared with no trace of greasiness, staining or tangles in the coat.

Colour and Pattern - Chalk white with no trace of yellow. Colour markings on the head, but not below the level of the eyeliner or beyond the base of the rear of the ears; the colour on the head should be separated by a vertical white blaze. It should be noted that too little marking on the head is as undesirable as too much. White nose. Ears should be white with delicate shell pink inside. The brush is coloured. Nose leather and paw pads pink.

Note: The foregoing description is the ideal.

(1) Occasional small thumbprints of colour irregularly placed on the cat, colour extending from the root of the tail onto the back and small extensions of colour beyond the defined limits of the head markings are undesirable but should not penalise an otherwise good specimen. Also note that the pink areas may show coloured spots appropriate to the markings colour.

(2) The eye colour may fade with age, the amber particularly taking on a greenish tinge, which likewise should not penalise an otherwise good specimen.
